

Calenda is a perpetual calendar made out of concrete. A simple movement slides the central element to the next day in a poetic way.

Its extremely thin shape highly challenges the concrete and makes it become super light.